

STATE SENATE AGAIN JOLTS HOME BREW

TWO HOTEL OWNERS ARE FINED $100 ON LIQUOR COMPLAINT

STATE SHOWS SPEED IN CLEANING UP BOOZE CASES HERE.

ONE CASE PUT OVER

Bahr and Conley Fined—Wollin Case Adjourned to July 6.

State enforcement of the prohibition laws is gaining in favor here as a result of speed noted in bringing cases to trial—especially those arising from state officers' raids here last Wednesday. It took but six days to dispose of two of the three cases.

Fines of $100 and costs were assessed by Judge H. L. Mumford in municipal court here Tuesday against Paul F. Bahr, proprietor of the Union hotel, 102 North First street, and William T. Conley, proprietor of the New Commercial hotel, 102-04 North Academy street.

Case against Albert W. Wollin, proprietor of the old Bank saloon, 21 South Main street, was adjourned to July 6 at the request of his attorney, Charles Pierce.

Both Plead Guilty.

The $100 fines constituted a blow at proprietors of soft drink establishments who allow intoxicating liquors to be stored on the premises. Both Bahr and Conley entered pleas of guilty to these charges, through their attorney, Roger G. Cunningham.

Mr. Cunningham made a plea that they be given a light fine on the grounds the violations were purely technical. He brought out that the small amount of liquor found was not there for the purpose of sale—that it had merely been stored on the premises and had been there for a long time.

Dist. Atty. S. G. Dunwiddie demanded a fine to put to the practice of these establishments having any alcoholic beverages of any kind in the building.

Relative to the 2-gallon whiskey found in the basement of the Union hotel, Bahr claimed it did not belong to him. He said it had been left there sometime ago and to his knowledge had not been used while on his premises.

The cases came up when F. R. Bloodgood, state prohibition agent, with two assistants made raids here last Wednesday. In Bahr's place they found little over a pint of moonshine, together with the still, and in Conley's hotel they found four quarts of grain alcohol and a pint of gin in the basement.

Used cars are not a drug on the market. A sale can be found for them. There are not enough to supply the demand, or at least it proved so in this case.

It brought the man to buy the car. Although Mr. Beers had $1,000, he sold it to the first man who answered the ad.

You can insert an ad any time by calling 77 on your nearest telephone.

Raised in Cuba City, Judge Smalley was admitted to the bar in 1908. He has practiced since then in Cuba City, where he lives. This photograph of Judge Smalley was taken in front of the LeFayette county courthouse at Lancaster by a Gazette photographer, where he held his first term the second week in June.

MILWAUKEE RENT LAW HELD ILLEGAL

Supreme Court Declares Statute Is Special Legislation and Prohibited.

(By Associated Press.)

Madison.—The Milwaukee rent law, passed by the 1919 legislature, was held unconstitutional Tuesday by the supreme court on the ground that it is special legislation prohibited by the constitution of Wisconsin.

Opinion of the court was delivered by Justices Vinje and Owen dissenting, and Justice Doerner taking no part.

The Milwaukee sales and investment company brought the suit against the railroad commission and Walter H. Bender, director of the department of rent regulation, to establish the constitutionality of the law which since has practically gone out of existence through failure of the legislature to provide funds.

The opinion of the court holds that no classification of legislation, such as that made in applying the rent law to Milwaukee alone, could legally be applicable to the people generally. It should have been restricted to Milwaukee, the court holds.

Claim Murphy Was Planning More Extensive Mail Raids

(By Associated Press.)

Chicago.—"Big Tim" Murphy, hold with alleged accomplices in connection with the $350,000 Dearborn street station mail robbery, was planning an even greater raid on the mails, according to police who base their claim on an alleged confession obtained from one of Murphy's lieutenants.

An accomplice in the proposed robbery, according to the alleged confession, was Tommy O'Connor, long sought by the police in connection with the killing of a detective here.

Further evidence was to be presented today to the federal grand jury in connection with the Dearborn street robbery by Special Prosecutor Northrup.

It was also expected that federal authorities would obtain a search warrant to open Murphy's safety deposit box in a local bank in an effort to locate $250,000 of the loot not missing.

PROPERTY TAX TO RAISE UNIVERSITY OPERATING FUND

DAHL SURTAX AMENDMENT IS KILLED IN STATE ASSEMBLY.

CENTER OF FIGHT

U. W. and Normal Appropriation Bills Passed in Lower House at Madison.

Madison.—Funds for operation and maintenance of the university totaling nearly eight million dollars for the next two years will be raised by the present general property tax rather than by a sur-tax on incomes, as a result of assembly action Tuesday in killing, 45 to 40, the Dahl sur-tax amendment to the university appropriation bill.

Following rejection of the Dahl amendment the bill was sent to engrossment, 34 to 41, and then, with rules suspended, was passed, 53 to 27. It will now go to Governor Blaine for his signature, which is expected.

The fight centered around the sur-tax proposal which would have raised $2,250,000 annually, or half of the operating expense for the next biennium. A similar bill had been offered and defeated in the senate.

Burden on Wealthy.

Contention was made by friends of the proposed sur-tax that it placed a large share of the burden of higher education on the wealthy, higher educated citizens who secured the benefit. They expressed the opinion that the ordinary property holders had little interest in the university.

Opponents pointed out that a sur-tax was unstable, especially under the Dahl plan.

The Chita government has declared the mobilization of 10 classes (from 1890 to 1904) as well as of all former officers, according to a Harbin dispatch.

Labor Seeks Ousting of Legislator

Kenosha.—The trades and labor council of Kenosha has appealed to the governor to oust from office Malcolm D. Farr, member of the assembly from Kenosha county, on the grounds that he has declared that he will attend no more sessions of the legislature.

The trades council is declared to have been sadly disappointed in the action of Farr on labor measures.

The governor has notified the trades body that the appeal must be made to the legislature direct and a meeting has been called for tonight to take up the matter. Farr has announced he will not resign.

"I am not a bit interested in what those fellows do," was his answer to a request for a statement. Farr some time ago announced that he would be a candidate for mayor of Kenosha next year.

Plan World-wide Search for Lost Ship; Pirate Theory Gains Ground

Washington.—A world wide search for the missing crew of the schooner Carroll A. Deering of Bath, Me., which piled up on the North Carolina beach last January, with all sails set, but not a living soul aboard, has been started by the state department through American consuls.

CREDIT THEORY OF MODERN PIRATES ON ATLANTIC OCEAN

Portland, Me.—The theory that pirates are afloat in the North Atlantic has found credence here. Belief in this explanation of the fate of recently missing ships has grown with establishment of the fact that the message in a bottle, picked up two months ago north of Cape Hatteras, purporting to explain the disappearance of the crew of the five masted Bath schooner, Carroll A. Deering, mystery ship of Diamond Shoals, was written by Henry Bates of Gloucester, a member of the crew. Quotation of its genuineness was settled by handwriting experts, who compared it with letters written by Bates.

The unsigned note stated that the schooner had been captured by an oil burning craft, something like a sub-chaser, that the members of the crew who were hiding all over the ship with no chance to escape, were being hand-cuffed and that everything was being taken off.

Through the efforts of Mrs. W. B. Wormell, this city, wife of the captain of the Deering, and friends, an investigation is being conducted by the department of commerce to establish the fate of the missing crew which consisted of 12 men besides the captain.

The Deering, bound tight from South America, was found undamaged with all sails set on the outer sheet of Cape Hatteras on the morning of January 31.

Mayor Welsh Fined $10 for Speeding—Might be Free If Only a Citizen

Mayor Thomas E. Welsh was fined $10 and costs for speeding when he was caught on the highway Tuesday morning before Judge H. L. Mumford.

"If you were Thomas E. Welsh, a citizen, I would consider dismissing the complaint on the evidence submitted here," said the court. "But because you are Thomas E. Welsh, mayor of Janesville, I am going to declare you guilty and fine you. This is the penalty you must pay for holding a public office."

Workingman Testifies.

Deputy Sheriff Roy Worthington, county speed regulator, appeared to back up his complaint that the mayor exceeded the 30-mile speed limit on the Janesville-Beloit concrete highway a week ago. When questioned by City Attorney Roger G. Cunningham who appeared with the mayor, Worthington admitted he had not taken the mayor closely enough to determine the speed he was going but declared his belief that he was exceeding the limit. He offered to bring in witnesses to testify that the city executive was violating the law.

No Intent to Violate.

"At no time did I know that I was violating the law and had no intention of doing so," declared Mayor Welsh.

GOMPERS, LEWIS THOUSANDS VIEW AIDES SEEK VOTES BIG CIRCUS PARADE

Hagenbeck-Wallace Outfit Here for 2 Shows on Old Burr Robbins' Lot.

(By Associated Press.)

Denver.—Campaigners for both John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, and Samuel Gompers, candidates for the presidency, were working at top speed Tuesday when the sessions of the annual convention of the American Federation of labor were resumed.

Both candidates expressed themselves as confident of victory, declaring they have been pledged sufficient votes to win.

Official announcement of the decision of the representatives of the railroad workers was awaited with interest as both the Gompers and Lewis supporters claimed a majority of those organizations.

The electrical workers and the International Ladies Garment Workers were also claimed by both candidates.

The Lewis supporters Tuesday added the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers, Mine Mill and Smelter Workers, railway car men and nearly 150 single votes of state and central bodies to their list, which already includes the machinists' union, the largest in the federation with a combined voting strength of 10,514.

The election, labor leaders said, would be made a special order of business for Friday afternoon.

CLOVER AND ALFAFA KILL TUBERCULOSIS GERM, SAYS DOCTOR

(By Associated Press.)

Washington.—The juices of alfalfa and clover are aiding in destroying the tuberculosis germ, Dr. Hyman Lischer of San Diego, Cal., declared Tuesday at the convention of the American Institute of Homeopathy.

Both grasses, Dr. Lischer said, are being used effectively in the dynamotherapy treatment of former service men at the Alpine sanatorium, with which he is connected.

Use of the grass juices has made material progress against the disease, he said, adding that he believed medical science was pushing back the tuberculosis plague.

Three therapies—dynamo, physio and psycho—constitute the basis of treatment, Dr. Lischer said. The first calls for well selected food, the second for energies and the last calls for cheerful surroundings and healthy mental state.

Considerable interest has been aroused here by a rumor that the Irish Sinn Fein plans to make a protest of peace to King George at Belfast tomorrow.

COUNTY HIGHWAY BONDS IN DEMAND

Many Individuals Apply to Church—Hope to Sell Many July 1.

Rock county's highway improvement bonds are being sold to Southern Wisconsin residents as directed by the county board finance committee on Monday. A few hours after the decision became known, there were applications for the six percent bonds on Tuesday expressed confidence that a considerable amount would be sold on July 1 when interest money is generally paid on bank deposits.

But banks have agreed to sell a number of the bonds and an appeal is to be made to other banks in the county to offer them for sale.

Money is needed at once by the county to further highway improvement work.

Walworth Bonds O. K.

Information from Grant D. Harrington, Walworth county clerk, shows that the highest bonds of that county were sold for cash and not under a deferred payment plan as alleged during the county board finance committee conference.

The Walworth county board authorized the issuing of $400,000 road bonds in 1920, but because of building and finance conditions, the highway committee cut the bonds down to a minimum. The bond dealers would not buy the Walworth issue at five percent, the highest legal rate, until special legislation allowed six percent.

The Walworth county board agreed to the rescue and agreed to buy as many of the bonds as it was necessary to sell at par and the legal rate of interest at five percent.

The balance of the issue was afterwards sold to the Continental and Commercial Trust company, Chicago, for cash and a draft for the full purchase price was given the bond committee the day after the bonds were delivered.

The county committee authorized the sale of the 1921 bonds at five percent and the block of bonds were advertised and sold on June 1 to a syndicate headed by the Second Ward Securities company, Milwaukee, and cash was paid for the bonds.

"It is true that Walworth county bond committee has at different times received proposals for the purchase of the bonds but they were never entertained or favorably considered," declared Clerk Harrington.

The measure has gone through both houses and now is up to Governor Blaine, who is expected to sign.

The national women's party has concentrated on the Wisconsin legislature for the last two months, plotting their bill through the house and senate. They were saved Tuesday by a 12 to 11 vote in the senate against adoption of an amendment which would have denied them the right of contract.

PULLMAN LOSES IN OPEN SHOP FIGHT

Rail Labor Board Upholds Contention of Union Leaders in Controversy.

(By Associated Press.)

Chicago.—The Pullman company lost its open shop fight before the United States railroad labor board Tuesday when the board upheld the contention of union leaders that the company had not obeyed the "letter and spirit" of the transportation act when it conferred with its employees in making changes.

The board threw out the company's petition for a cut in the wages of its shop employees and instructed it to go back and meet with elected representatives of the employees.

The shop crafts and clerks in the Pullman works are involved in the case. The board's decision may delay any action on a reduction in their wages for several weeks. Under the transportation act, the company must meet the union leaders and, if they fail to reach a decision, a petition before the board and ask a new hearing.

UPPER HOUSE IS FIRM AGAINST DRY BILL OF BLAINE

GOVERNOR'S MEN LEAD FIGHT AGAINST HIS MEASURE ON FLOOR. CONFERENCE NEXT

Primary Election Laws Will Continue Without Change for Next Two Years.

(By Associated Press.)

Madison.—Home brew went down to defeat in the senate again Tuesday, when the upper house, 17 to 8, refused to concur in the assembly amendment restoring Blaine's prohibition enforcement bill to its original form. The floor leaders of the governor led the fight against his bill.

The whole controversy now goes to conference, both houses of the senate determined in its stand against acceptance of the bill as Governor Blaine demands it.

This action of the senate, which had been expected, heads off practically any chance of prohibition enforcement legislation this session. Should the assembly agree to accept the senate stand against home brew, it is believed Governor Blaine would veto the measure, while failure of the assembly to accept the senate stand would result in its death by the upper house.

Senator Moran is the only member of the senate who changed his vote after consultation with the governor. He had been consistently dry stood out against the executive on the ground that his bill was wet.

"Adoption of the assembly amendment would be a vote for wet or dry throughout Wisconsin," Senator Olson, administration member, said. "There will be nothing to stop anyone from manufacturing any amount of beer or wine without limitation of alcoholic content."

Senator Olson declared he was unwilling to take the responsibility for permitting home brew in Wisconsin in connection with the Volstead act and the constitution.

Here's Roll Call

Defeat of the governor's bill, which he introduced after vetoing the Madison bill, passed by both houses will leave prohibition enforcement to the present Blaine law. The roll call follows:

For non-concurrence in assembly amendment—Anderson, Buck, Clark, Conant, Denmark, Huber, Kuckuk, Nye, Olson, Peterson, Ridgway, Rothe, Severson, Smith, Staudenmayer, Titus, Verden—17.

Against non-concurrence—Arnold, Bittrich, Burke, Czerwinski, Kilest, Moran, Morris, Mulberger—8.

Wisconsin primary election laws will continue without alteration for another two years, as a result of senate action in granting the request of Senator Titus for unanimous consent to withdraw his motion to reconsider the bill in connection with the Volstead act.

This removes any chance of reviving the measure, which had gone through the assembly after numerous reconsiderations and parliamentary maneuvers. It was generally understood Governor Blaine would have vetoed it.

The bill, which the party convention had passed, was introduced by Senator Titus, who had received delegates from every precinct in the state to draw up majority and minority party platforms and to select majority and minority leaders for state office. It was designed to prevent continued minority rule in the senate.

BUILD 4 GRAVEL ROADS IN COUNTY

Moore Kept Busy With Edgerton Concrete and Other Jobs.

Four crushed gravel roads are being built in Rock county under contract and will be completed within the next month. All the improved roads are either trunk line highways or important connecting links.

The four gravel crushing outfits of the county, bought in 1914, are being used.

Additional contracts for gravel improvements are being considered by the county highway committee, one of which is the re-surfacing of the Milton road from the end of the street car line in Janesville to the fork where the road divides to Milton or Milton Junction.

Rush Concrete Work.
High speed is being obtained on the concrete road to Edgerton. The trunk line highway farm, the county construction force is pouring more than 400 feet a day and expects to increase the footage to 500 a day this week.

The engineers are confident if money is raised through the sale of the highway bonds, the road will be completed to Indian Ford the last of July. The machinery will have to be changed once more when the end of the two mile track is reached.

Cash will have to be realized from the bonds at once to pay for materials. It is estimated that the county must sell at least $25,000 worth of bonds by July.

Improve Road No. 10.
One of the gravel roads is on trunk line highway number 99 out of Milton leading into Whitewater. This road connects with the concrete road to Whitewater county. This is one of the widest highways in the county and the gravel re-surfacing is for a 12 foot crown. This contract is being fulfilled by Kennedy and Bush.

The Milwaukee road leading into Walworth county is also being re-surfaced. Townsend and Cuts are the contractors on this work.

The crushing machinery which was bought for $7,000 in 1914, is still in serviceable condition, turning 150 cubic yards of material a day.

The yardage has been increased by the carrier system whereby gravel is carried by scrapers to the crushing pit and dumped down a platform to be carried by the buckets. Iron screens separate the fine gravel and it is carried direct to the leading pits.

The larger stones are carried into the crushing jaws and into the tray carriers.

Once laid and leveled, it takes several weeks for traffic to back down the crushed material. Rains are badly needed to aid in the packing. The county has discontinued the use of steam rollers and water flushing, learning that it is too expensive and once it is rutted up, the crown is so hard it cannot be re-surfaced except by scarifying.

Use of powerful tractors in patrol work has proven so successful, according to County Commissioner Charles E. Moore, that a second tractor will be bought next year to be used on roads other than trunk line highways.

The other new gravel roads are in the western part of the county, one being the Beloit-Orfordville road and the other in the town of Union. Work this year will complete nearly all of the trunk lines in Rock county.

A few of the county highways are being oiled. Light oil is being used without sand to cover and it is costing eight cents a gallon. Oil has been spread near Milton. A carload is to be used.

Have Complete Camps.
The crushed gravel roads are costing the county about $2.20 per cubic yard.

Most of the contractors have complete movable camps, with bunk houses, kitchens and ten stables for the horses. Excessive heat has caused serious trouble to the horses. Several have been affected by the sun when working in the pits or hauling gravel.

On the concrete jobs no horses are being used, the motive power being all gasoline or steam.

FARMERS TO BUY COAL VIA BUREAU

12,000,000 Pounds of Picnic Acid Will be Put to Agricultural Uses.

The county orders will be pooled in the state bureau, where a purchasing agent will buy the coal in the open market and at the lowest price possible. Coal will be shipped directly to the county co-operative elevator and delivered through a local dealer.

It is estimated at least $1.50 a ton will be saved through the plan. The state bureau, it was said, would guarantee the quality of the coal.

Mallory Estate Goes to Library

Elkhorn.—The will of Mrs. Belle Mallory has been filed in county court. It provides her entire estate shall be used for buying a site and erecting a public building for the city of Elkhorn, to be called the "Charles Kinne library," in honor of her father, one of Walworth county's early settlers.

The property probably will net between $25,000 and $30,000. Elkhorn has an unusually fine public library but it is housed in a rented building, so the new structure is much needed.

The marriage of the Rev. Harwood Stantavart, rector of the Racine Episcopal church, and Miss Mary M. Williams, Delavan, took place in Christ church, Delavan, Tuesday, the Rev. F. V. Hoag, Delavan, Ill., a cousin of the groom, officiating. This marriage unites two of Delavan's oldest and most prominent families.

Word comes from Madison that Miss Constance Kinne, a daughter of Dr. Edward Kinne, of Elkhorn, is able to leave the hospital. She was in the recent automobile accident when a number of students from the French house were injured.

George Lindsay, Whitewater, charged with driving a motor car without a license, was bound over to the county court for trial. Lindsay was recently convicted of a similar offense and let off with a fine.

The Tigard's colored team, defeated Elkhorn Sunday, 13 to 3. The following have applied to the county clerk for marriage licenses: Norman A. Nicks and Elsie Stuyvesant, Lake Geneva; John W. Callahan, Whitewater, and Rose A. Kuntz, Beaver Dam.

Mayworth's hand was badly lacerated and he was brought to Elkhorn for medical attention. One of the occupants of the other automobile had his shoulder broken. The two machines were practically ruined.

"I believe everyone is satisfied with the pool," said C. E. Culver, secretary of the Farm Bureau.

103 ENROLLED IN SUMMER COURSE AT ST. PETER'S CHURCH

Despite soaring summer temperatures, at church work has not ceased at least among the children. The daily summer Bible school of St. Peter's Lutheran church opened Monday with 103 children in attendance, ranging in age from 7 to 13 years, and several of them coming from farms seven miles out.

While most of the morning is spent in study, the session is broken by a well earned recess, when the children play on the broad church lawn. The teachers this year are George and Dorothy Kueck, Doris Sommerfeld, Florence Hunt, and Catherine Davis. Pastor G. J. Muller is principal.

The school has been in existence three years, having grown from an average attendance of 64 in 1919 to its present size.

Not the least of the joys to the children will be the big picnic in July which closes the five weeks' session.

FARMERS TO GET ARMY EXPLOSIVE

Wisconsin Among States to Adopt Plan of Cooperative Purchasing.

Washington.—More than 12,000,000 pounds of picric acid, one of the highest known explosives, accumulated for war purposes since the war, will be distributed to farmers for agricultural purposes.

When the war ended, the army had on hand this immense stock of picric acid and in addition more than 26,000,000 pounds of T. N. T. The latter was distributed to various government agencies for use in railroad construction in Alaska, public roads in the national parks and various projects on Indian reservations.

None of the T. N. T. was distributed to individuals and thus far not a single accident has marked the use or transportation of the millions of pounds of the explosive, according to the officials of the Bureau of Explosives.

Can be Used Safely. The question of what to do with the 12,000,000 pounds of picric acid puzzled government officials for some time and the war department had almost decided to tow the explosive out to sea and dump it overboard in the interest of public safety.

When it was decided to institute a series of experiments in an effort to find some safe commercial use for it. The experiments were conducted by the Bureau of Mines and disclosed many ways in which picric acid could be used safely and profitably on farms, such as in blasting out stumps and rocks and breaking up land. It was accordingly decided to distribute the explosive free of charge, to farmers.

Supply at Sparta. Picric acid, a highly crystalline powder having a lemon yellow color, is 25 per cent stronger than 40 per cent straight nitro-glycerin dynamite, according to the Bureau of Mines. It should never be used in bulk, officials say, and use should be restricted to re-dipped paraffined paper cartridges.

The 12,000,000 surplus stock, located at Sparta, Wis., and Waukegan, Ill., will be distributed to farmers through the Bureau of Public Roads of the Department of Agriculture. The only cost to the farmer, it is announced, will be the freight and a charge of six cents a pound for placing the powder in the necessary cartridges. It will be ready for distribution about July 1.

Among the charts which he will draw up will be one on transportation facilities; an industrial map; geology of the surrounding territory; industrial sites; population within stated distances. TABOO ONE-PIECE BATHING SUITS ON STREETS OF MADISON

Madison.—Parading public thoroughfares in one-piece bathing suits is a privilege to be denied University of Wisconsin co-eds who, during the recent hot spell, have neglected any additional outer covering in their strolls to Lake Mendota.

Complaint by a woman resident of the city to the chief of police resulted in his issuing an order compelling bathers to wear either overalls, bath robes or some other suitable garment while walking to the lake and home after the dip. He has delegated a policeman to enforce the order.

Reports of the officer showed 15 bathers had been sent home to secure additional clothing, while many others had been instructed to button up their outer attire before proceeding down the street.

It is the custom at Madison to dress for bathing at home, since there are no bathhouses at the lake shore.

HIGH SCHOOL GYM, AND THE MOTHERS.

Mother has a large responsibility in athletics and the proper physical training of the youth. We have it from Gen. Pershing that the boys who enlist have a lack of both mental and physical education. Once we thought a bulging brain filled with cyclopedic facts was the proper thing for the youth of the nation. For the man who cared nothing about "book learning", reading and writing and a smattering of arithmetic sufficed. Now we demand something more—a body that can stand mental forcing, a training of muscle and breathing apparatus so that the germs of disease may be fought off, and a good active man or woman who can do something in the world besides "coin epigrams and deliver platitudes, be built up in the school.

When the boy wants to play ball, that is the time to let him play. That is much to be preferred to hanging about a dance hall or foraging in places of questionable character. The home has an influence here and the city and community have also a responsibility. This is one reason why all the modern school buildings are being equipped with gymnasiums and it is a foretold reason why the new high school should have a gym. It would be a regrettable error not to provide such a feature for the new school building.

Here is a chance for the mothers to act. Behind the board of education should be the women who have the greatest and deepest personal interest in the future of the child. Let the school board know that the new high school will be incomplete without a gym and that one is as necessary as well ventilated school rooms; and there will be a sentiment so strong that no one for any reason dare cut it out of the plans. We are in need of the physical training and the city has a duty in giving every opportunity to the youth for such an educational force.

So far not a single protest has been filed against Bryan leaving Nebraska.

MR. MATHESON FOR GOVERNOR.

Fred Sheasby, correspondent of the Milwaukee Sentinel, from Madison, after going into some detail as to the split over the Blaine bill to give the liquor interests what they want, says of the coming gubernatorial contest:

A. E. Matheson, author of the Matheson bill voted by Mr. Blaine, might be brought out as the dry candidate for governor. No one questions his qualifications—he is gubernatorial timber. He has gained all the publicity that comes to one playing a prominent part in the legislature. He is a man of pleasing personality; a strong public speaker, and exercises a powerful influence in the legislature, not in the sense that he pounds his way along, but rather because there is a certain reserved force about him that is attractive.

Of course, there are other dry who would be acceptable to the Anti-Saloon league, but Mr. Matheson is out in the front if he has been stung by the gubernatorial bee.

While Mr. Matheson has said nothing of such an ambition and knowing him as his friends and neighbors do, that he will say nothing on this question, there are many who would be pleased to have the bee sting him so that they might have an opportunity of voting for him for governor. But, Mr. Sheasby might be reminded that it is a far cry from now to the day when the next governor is to be nominated. Also, knowing Mr. Matheson, it might be said that he will finish the present job before considering another.

FIGHTING FOR "OUR COUNTRY" OUT OF DATE.

After the criticism of the Harvey speech is read, one reaches the conclusion that it is common and vulgar for one to have fought for one's country. Suppose we will have to quit singing "My Country 'tis of Thee". Perhaps Mr. Muzzey or some other perverter of history will get it fixed in the text books in a year or less, so that we will not think of the men in blue who fought in '61 and '65 as having been shedding blood in the cause of the country. Those critics of Mr. Harvey are perfectly willing that the United States troops should fight just so long as it is for some reason other than merely for the United States. For instance, had we accepted the mandate of the League of Nations for Armenia, we would be in a war with the Soviet, with Turkey, involved with Greece in the present threatened invasion, and with ambitious small countries which have separated from Turkey and Armenia also. It is estimated that more than a half million men are involved in the disputes over the territory in Asia Minor. It would mean blood

A Government Biow at Marriage

By FREDERICK J. HASKIN

Washington, D. C.—That several government departments, by discriminating against married women in cutting down their office forces, and making it less attractive for those who might be the claim of women here who are active in the movement to get women working opportunities equal to those enjoyed by men.

Miss Elsie Hight, of the National Woman's party, says several government departments, which now are reducing their payrolls, have issued questionnaires to their women employees to find out who are married and which single. A questionnaire sent out by the air service, of which we have a copy, is evidently designed to gain further information about the circumstances of the married women. It asks each of these to tell whether or not she is living with her husband, if not, whether she is legally separated from him; whether any members of her immediate family are employed by the government and, if so, how much each earns.

Following the issuance of these questionnaires, Miss Hight states, a large number of married women have been dropped from the rolls of the departments, without regard to their efficiency. In many cases, she says, married women of long experience and established value have been dropped for no other discoverable reason than that they are married. At the same time, she says, the civil service is holding examinations for employees of similar grade and kind.

The object of the various departments in dropping married women from their rolls is plain. They are compelled to drop some employees and are eager to drop those who will suffer least hardship as a result. Obviously the married woman who has an employed husband is less apt to suffer than the single woman entirely dependent on her own resources.

The women recognize this motive and its practical result. They claim that, in effect, it is a blow at marriage and at the right of a woman to work and be independent.

It is this latter phase which chiefly interests the women politicians. They point out that the conservatives who contend that woman's place is in the home, are often keeping her out of it when, by measures like this one, they destroy her earning capacity. For the modern American woman generally works because she must. She may also work because she wants to do so, but it is necessary far more than choice that has brought women into the working world. In American cities the number of men who can support a wife and children in a really adequate way has been on the decline for a long time, as prices and standards of living have risen, while salaries and wages have climbed slowly after them. The departments at Washington, like the offices of other American cities, are filled with unmarried girls between 20 and 30.

The girls will tell you these girls are working because they love their independence and that they would want to continue to work and be self-supporting even though married. Unprejudiced observers, on the other hand, have estimated that an offer of marriage and support from an attractive man with an assured income of $10,000 a year would be rejected by only about one-tenth of one per cent of these girls.

Most of them are working because they have to, and most of them have not married because the good chance has not come along. No doubt many of them do appreciate their independence and they probably appreciate it more after they have made some progress in their work and have become accustomed to freedom. But they are workers, above all, by necessity. Not only $10,000 men, but $5,000 men are impossibly scarce. They are quickly captured by the more attractive girls, and usually by girls with social setting and enough money to dress in style, rather than by stenographers living on $25 a week. What stenographers actually find available in the way of a spouse is usually a clerk in the same office, making anywhere from $2500 to $4,000 a year. She herself may be making as much as $2,000. If she is past the flapper stage of indiscreet enthusiasm, she will think a long time before giving up her independent income to share one less than twice as large. Yet that is often what the man wants her to do. He does not want his wife to hold a job.

But there are more and more cases in which the man abandons this point of view for the more sensible one. They marry and, on their combined incomes, are able to establish an attractive home and to save money for the deferred enterprise of having children. The resultant home and family is just as much founded on the woman's earnings as on the man's. There is, in such a case, no more justification for discharging the woman because she has a husband than there would be for discharging the man because he has a wife.

The whole argument was rigorously thrashed out a few years ago when there was widespread effort to deprive married teachers of their jobs. The conclusion in both cases seems to be unmistakable. Leaving out all feminist theory, women in this country more and more have to have gainful employment to live. Often they have to work in order to marry and have children. You may deplore this if you please, or you may rejoice over it as the beginning of a new era of independence and usefulness for women. But you cannot blink the fact, and as long as women have to work, common justice demands that they must not be discriminated against because of their sex.

That is why the women have taken up cudgels against these department questionnaires.

and men and money all the time for us with such a mandate, yet the Harvey critics and the Hamilton Hells and others who are so anxious that we get into the international European mess, are perfectly willing that we do battle for a cause so entirely foreign to us. It is plainly noticeable that these men are always far from the cannon's roar and like Artemus Ward, are willing to "sacrifice all their wife's relations" on the altar of their ideals.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST

THE MAN WHO HAS A BOY TO TRAIN.
The man who has a boy to train, and works to him from night and day. There's much to him he must explain, And many a doubt to clear away: His task is one which calls for tact, And friendship of the finest kind, Because with every word and act, He molds the little fellow's mind. He must be careful of his speech, For careless words are quickly learned; He must be wise enough to teach, What comes may be safely turned.

He should know just what books to read, And every game that goes to play, And must himself be fit to land, And all the laws he must obey. The man who has a boy to train, Must thoughtful be to counsel well; Without example, speech is vain, And it is not enough to tell. Those youthful ears the way to go, For little eyes are quick to see, And 'fore soon they come to know, If you are what you'd have him be.

It is no light and simple task, A man must know so many things To answer questions he is asked, And yet what he the duty brings, To do with him from day to day, And all the ways of men explain, He has rich comradeship for pay, Who has a little boy to train.

THE ADMIRAL.

According to advices from Washington, the admiral has been suffering from acute indigestion.

But, on the other hand, we suppose that those who have whispers have a right to talk through them.

And the language of the sea was never the language of diplomacy. If it were, our diplomats would be having flat fights every day.

In other words, if the admiral said anything he is sorry for, he is glad to have his departure in response to the department's summons, but he is sailing on the next boat.

We wonder why it is, soon as any man goes from America to England these days, he has to make a speech.

By the way, who is going to be our ambassador to Yap?

Who's Who Today

The first woman lawyer to be appointed as an assistant United States attorney, she was sworn in at St. Louis, Mo., recently as assistant to Col. William Hayward, federal attorney for the southern district of New York.

Miss Towle has been chairman of the legislative committee of the Women Lawyers' association for the last two years, and also chairman of the committee on professional ethics. She is one of the two women members of the legislative committee of the Citizens Union, and is City club, and the Civic club.

She acted as general counsel to the National American Woman Suffrage Association from 1913 to 1919, and was chairman of the congressional party in Manhattan, which later became the League of Women Voters.

Miss Towle was admitted to the New York bar in 1912, after studying law at the New York University law school. She is an A. B. and A. M. graduate of Bryn Mawr.

OPINIONS OF OTHERS

Regulating Packers.

The immediate question at issue before the senate is the one whether the Senate bill for the regulation of the meat-packing industry shall pass. The conservative senators seem rather to prefer the House bill to that of their own Agricultural Committee. But either the House bill or the Senate bill, exactly some degree of regulation of the packing industry, such as we now lack. Both bills prohibit unfair, unjustly discriminatory or deceptive practices on the part of the packers, and both require the supply of information in such a way as to restrain commerce or create monopoly; both prohibit manipulation of prices by interlocking. Both bills forbid unreasonable rates or charges and unfair or discriminatory or deceptive practices or devices, and require open accounts. Both provide apparently effective methods by which complaints against packers or operators may be heard, reviewed and effectuated, and both provide for compulsory attendance of witnesses and production of records. The Senate bill, however, provides that the bill is to be administered by a Federal Livestock Commissioner at a salary of $7500, while the House bill puts the enforcing authority in the hands of the Secretary of Agriculture or an official in this department.

Neither in the Senate bill nor in the House bill is there any particular comfort for the packers, as an instrumentality of the packers' people's loss, and it now appears altogether probable that a healthy degree of regulation of the industry will be enacted by Congress, through one proposition or the other. It is certainly a business that ought to be regulated, and sternly.

LOOKING BACKWARD

FORTY YEARS AGO.

June 21, 1881.—The funeral of Frederick Hilbott, who was drowned Friday was held from the home of Michael Buob this morning. There were no relatives nor close friends present. The father being unable to get home from New York, C. Hilbott went to Chicago yesterday to make arrangements to get the Highlanders here for the Fourth celebration.

THIRTY-ONE YEARS AGO.

June 21, 1890.—Many K. P.'s from this city will attend the world meeting which will be held in Milwaukee July 7-12. The city committee resigned, but their resignation was not accepted and the matter will stand for a while.

TWENTY YEARS AGO.

June 21, 1901.—Miss Helen Fiheld, who disappeared from here night before last, has been found. Police have traced her to Chicago, to a hotel where she registered under a false name, but soon left. She bought a ring and several articles of clothing here the afternoon before she left and took them all with her. She seemed to be all right the night before.

TEN YEARS AGO.

June 21, 1911.—Pickpockets were busy in the city yesterday, circus-day. One man was relieved of $50 while down town in the crowd, while many others had smaller sums stolen from their pockets. Police are preparing for the coronation, which will take place soon. The streets through which the royal party will pass are being decorated as they have never been in previous coronations.

Q. Can you tell me of any tests which will prove whether material is linen or cotton?
A. The old-fashioned test is to apply a dampened finger to the underside of the material. If a wet spot shows through immediately, it is linen. More scientific test can be made by washing a piece of the material and soaking in glycerine. It will seem transparent if linen, opaque if cotton. Or wash thoroughly sample of material in hot soap suds and place in hot running acid one minute. Transfer quickly to fresh water. If fabric is all cotton, the sample will turn white. If it is linen the shape will remain unchanged.

It is the firing of the steam in this unusual way that causes the depression which makes the sound.

Gasoline and Roast Beef

THE National Automobile Chamber of Commerce announces that six million cattle, hogs and sheep were shipped by motor truck from farms and feed lots to stockyards, during 1920; most of them were moved in the territory served by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana).

Before the advent of the motor truck, the farmer drove his cattle to the loading station, and hauled his hogs in the small, slow-moving, horse-drawn wagons. This practice called for a great expenditure of time and labor, and caused the animals to arrive in an overheated condition, which meant a heavy shrinkage and a consequent lower market value. Today much of this loss is eliminated by the quicker, more efficient method of transportation. Middle West farmers have come to look upon the motor truck as a dependable, economical aid in the prompt and profitable marketing of their live stock.

By reason of its comprehensive system for distributing gasoline and other petroleum products, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has been a potent factor in stabilizing the use of the motor truck on the farms throughout the Middle West.

Whether the farmer lives on a main traveled highway, or on a remote cross road, he depends upon the dark green tank wagon of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) to supply his needs.

The dependability of Standard Oil Company (Indiana) service is recognized by the farmers of the Middle West—the most important food-producing area in the world.

In supplying the petroleum needs of the farmer, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is rendering a service of signal importance to every inhabitant of the territory served. A dependable supply of gasoline means a dependable supply of food.

Such service is possible only because the Board of Directors of the Standard Oil Company appreciate their responsibility to the public, and because 25,000 men and women who make up this organization realize the weight of this responsibility and the importance of their individual tasks.

While the equipment of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is vast and complete, it is the spirit of the personnel which makes for efficiency. The mere physical equipment would be ineffectual in the hands of the passive or inexperienced.

BUSINESS MARCHES IN A LONG WHEEL

Discussion of Many Phases of Conditions as They Now Exist.

By DAVID LAWRENCE.
Copyright 1921, by Janesville Gazette.

Washington.—The business situation throughout the country presents a picture of confusion and uncertainty. The government is in a state of financial distress, and the country is in a state of economic depression. The business situation is a long wheel, and it is a long time before it will be back on its wheels.

No two industries are exactly the same way and at the same moment. This explains the almost continuous flow of pessimistic talk which undercurrents the business situation. The business situation is a long wheel, and it is a long time before it will be back on its wheels.

Therefore officials here are inclined to sound a warning against the possibility of a general depression. The business situation is a long wheel, and it is a long time before it will be back on its wheels.

The clearest idea of the readjustment which this country has experienced since the war is given by one man who has been in the business situation for a long time. The business situation is a long wheel, and it is a long time before it will be back on its wheels.

Just now the oil and steel businesses are at the edge of the marching column, with a long distance to go before they can get back into line. The business situation is a long wheel, and it is a long time before it will be back on its wheels.

Steel was in a prosperous mood last winter when the oil and steel businesses were in a state of financial distress. The business situation is a long wheel, and it is a long time before it will be back on its wheels.

Nearly Psychological. The main trouble in almost every instance has been psychological. The business situation is a long wheel, and it is a long time before it will be back on its wheels.

The term "confidence" has been so much used that it does not always convey a strong impression. The business situation is a long wheel, and it is a long time before it will be back on its wheels.

THE GIRL WHO HAD NO CHANCE

By Marion Rubincam.

CHAPTER LXIV.
GREAT PLAINS.
It took Ruth a week to get over the queer little sick feeling that came with Myra's letter. For some time she had almost thought that she was all over her love for him, and that she had built up her life again.

She knew she was not happy. But then how could she be, when money was so hard to make, when her outlook was narrowed by the little town she lived in, when her progress, her "career" as she sometimes called it, was made slow because she had never had a chance. And too, there was the worry over her father's failing health—and between her and her mother there was gradually growing a spirit of antagonism.

One by one her old schoolmates were marrying. Though she was only 20, she had not even one devoted admirer to her credit, as the other girls would express it. Ruth, they said, was going to be an "old maid."

But the girl did not care for this, though she was conscious of the comment. She went on about her work and built up her plans, and decided that money and love would have no part in her life.

After a week she was able to attend the annual W. R. C. U. will attend the County Fair at Janesville, June 25. Her own answer looked lame enough when she read it over.

"I suppose my mother has written about our new playgrounds and our band-concerts," part of her letter ran. "And of course you would like to see the river. So you remember the club. We've become so big we have a rival club now, which a friend of mine says is true greatness."

Then the girl continued in a dozing, great thing, my work for the club and this little real estate office keep me busy. The club has taken an old farmhouse as a country club. We have a rival club now, which a friend of mine says is true greatness."

She tried to say something about the expected baby, but somehow she could not. And then her most coveted plan began to go through. At several meetings Ruth had gone over her ideas with the Committee, and Langley had obtained plans and approximate costs, and had even made some rough blueprints.

She got her Committee so interested that they began winning over the town politicians. Langley sent out tentative offers to manufacturing concerns, hoping to persuade some factories to buy there. The city granted concessions.

But the plans dragged all that summer and fall. Meanwhile the war in Europe had started. It was scarcely felt in so quiet and so far away a place as Marquette, until suddenly foreign governments began wanting things made. They seemed to want everything—chemicals, explosives, even shoe laces and leather bolts.

Serve on a hot platter with a rice border. Eggless Mayonnaise—One tablespoon condensed milk, add drop of oil until thick. After it thickens add salt, pepper, one-fourth teaspoon mustard and one tablespoon vinegar, a dash of paprika. It is too thick, add a little fresh milk.

TRY THESE
An Old Umbrella Used for Piping—A gloria cover from an old umbrella may be cut in strips and used for piping any material where black is desired. It is a bias, good weight, a good black, and will not fade or run when washed with the garment.

SUGGESTIONS
Keeping Books—Leather-bound books should be kept where the air is moist and dry and circulates freely enough to prevent the natural oil of the leather drying out too rapidly.

What Shall I Do?
Answered by VIRGINIA PAGE
Right—So Why Worry?
Dear Miss Page: I have been going with a man six years my senior and a few days ago he proposed to me. But as I am not old enough to keep him, he has decided to leave me. I did not accept. I never intended to get married yet for some years to come, so that I can learn and know how to keep house. Do you think I was right not to accept his proposal? He has not spoken to me since. But

What could I do—I was too young!—Worried Just 18.
You did just right and are a very sensible girl. But why worry? You are too young to marry, and you may be sure that the young man didn't love you enough to make you a good husband anyway or he wouldn't have stopped speaking to you—he would have settled down to win you, and to work for you while he was waiting.

So many of my girl friends have a strange idea that if a man proposes marriage to them, they are in duty bound to accept. They seem to think there is no way out of it. That is a great mistake. Every man has a right to confess any honorable love, and in doing so he highly honors the woman he loves. But he does not obligate her in any way at all. Of course if she is a gentleman, she will try to be kind to him, as gracious and tactful as possible in order to hurt him as little as possible. But no matter how great his love, if she does not want to marry him just now, she has the right to say so. She would be ruining her own life and doing him a terrible injustice to accept his proposal.

The Story of Our States
By JONATHAN BRACE
XXXVII.—NEBRASKA
The Indian name for the Platte river was Nebraska, meaning "yellow water." This came the name of the state. A nickname for the state is Blackwater state.

Of the early Spanish explorations little is known, except that Coronado probably reached the great plain of this region in 1541. More than 125 years later Father Marquette noted the Platte river on his trip up the Missouri. In the beginning of the nineteenth century the Lewis and Clark expedition skirted the boundaries of the present state, and in 1805 Manuel Lisa established the first known settlement, which was a fur trading post at Bellevue. This was just after the Louisiana purchase had brought Nebraska into the United States territory. Omaha was established as a post of the American Fur company in 1825 and Nebraska City the following year. With the California gold rush in 1849 many pioneers passed through Nebraska, and some stopped and settled there, although there was a law forbidding settlements among the Indians. The real colonization boom, however, started with the passing of the Kansas-Nebraska act in 1854, which arranged that these two sections should become free or slave states at the dictates of their inhabitants.

The Nebraska territory was then organized and reached from the fourth to the forty-ninth parallel. In 1867 the region north of 42 was made into Dakota territory. The Idaho territory was also created, which reduced Nebraska to its present size of 77,520 square miles, except for a slight addition in the northwest which was made in 1887.

In 1897 Nebraska was admitted as the thirty-seventh state over the president's veto. It has eight presidential electors.

Hutchinson, Yank Golfer, Sets Record at St. Andrews

LOOK CARDS 146 ON FAMOUS SCOTCH ST. EDEN COURSE

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
St. Andrews, Scotland—Jack Hutchinson, the Chicago professional golfer, set a record of 68 over the Eden course today in the second half of the qualifying play in the British open championship tournament here. This is a competition record for the course. Hutchinson's record for two days was 138, giving him the lead over the field up to this time.

Other Americans in the competition scored as follows: Walter Hagen, Detroit, 77; total 157; Clarence Mackey, Atlantic City, 75; total 158.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
St. Andrews—Two American golfers, Jack Hutchinson of Chicago, and Jim Barnes of the Ebbw Vale Club, New York, created new competition records in the qualifying round of the British open golf championship here Tuesday.

Hutchinson covered the Eden course in 68 as against the record of 70 and Barnes went over the Old course in 70 as against the record of 71 held by George Duncan. Hutchinson with his 77 in yesterday's play, thus took the lead over the field at the time he returned his score. A total of 146 for the two days' play, Barnes' second round put him in third place in the early scoring with 148 or one stroke behind Hagen and one former British open champion who had 147 for the two rounds.

"Tex's" History Is Romance of Many Hard Raps

New York—Boxing's greatest showman, Lewis "Tex" Rickard, promoter of the coming Dempsey-Carpenter bout, has earned in staging several bouts drawing the largest gate receipts in the history of the city.

Thrown in contact with the boxing game by accident, Rickard, an accountant of whose career reads like fiction, accomplished near miracles in the ring, and has kept going successfully, despite conditions that sometimes made the word "quit" seem attractive.

Was New Puncher.
Rickard was born in Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 2, 1871. His father, a millwright, moved to the Panhandle of Texas when the embryo promoter was a small boy. He was thrown on his own resources, with a widowed mother, two brothers and three sisters to support. "Tex" turned to the calling of low-punching, a local and not a national sport.

Then started his travels which have made this man a "citizen of the world." He met success in the cattle business but in 1894 left the trade to make a career in Texas.

But Goldold was not satisfied with the local activity which the miners brought to that place. He was town "king" and he wanted more and Rickard suggested a championship boxing match.

Started as "Advertiser."
The promotion of a fight with virtually no capital has been characteristic of this promoter who has tapped the gold mines of Broadway as well as of the Klondike and Nevada. Through his efforts he secured enough money to finance Jimmy Britt and Terry McGovern a $20,000 guarantee for a championship bout in Goldfield. Coming from an unknown, at that time, the offer was hailed by the boxers and their managers as a joke.

Rickard kept right on however, and the managers of John Gainer and Battling Nelson were more susceptible to the glint of $20,000 in gold pieces laid before them. The lightweight fought a memorable battle at Goldfield, and Rickard was advertised nationally and "Tex" Rickard became a successful fight promoter.

"Take a Chance."
Since that time, Rickard has promoted from a financial point of view, the greatest fight contests ever staged. They have been successes only because of the extraordinary "showman" of the man who gave his slogan has been "take a chance." He has founded the country with his guarantee for the Johnson-Jeffries battle at Reno in 1910. But his receipts totalled $100,000 and he emerged a winner by $100,000. Receipts for the Willard-Dempsey bout at Toledo, July 4, 1919, amounted to $450,000, a new high mark.

Bouts staged by him in Madison Square Garden during the six months previous to last March brought in more than $1,300,000. Approximately $1,000,000 will flow into the box office from the fight between the two heavyweights, Jack Dempsey and Georges Carpentier, staged off at Jersey City, July 2, easily covering the tremendous outlay necessary to stage this bout. Rickard is one of the few who have coaxed substantial returns out of promotion in the boxing game.

Jack Lengthens Scraps; Norfolk Joins Champion

Atlantic City.—Kid Norfolk, negro lightweight, who has been clamoring for a match with Jack Dempsey, Tuesday joined the heavyweight champion staff of sparring partners. Jack Kearns, manager of the heavyweight champion considers the acquisition of Norfolk as a valuable asset. Norfolk is aggressive, clever and Kearns thinks he can develop Dempsey's speed.

Norfolk is the first of a number of high class boxers who will put Dempsey on edge in the final days of training. Larry Gribb, the Pittsburgh light heavyweight, and Mike Gibbons, the St. Paul phantom also are slated to join Dempsey's camp. There is a possibility that Battling Gies may be dropped because of his inclination to keep away from Dempsey instead of forcing the champion to extend himself. Gies, who was knocked down three times and had two teeth knocked loose the first time he boxed Dempsey, managed to keep out of range Monday.

Jack Increases Rounds
Larry Williams appears to be the only sparring partner in camp who gives Dempsey any kind of a workout. He mixes furiously with the champion despite the fact that he takes a lacing each day he performs.

Monday Dempsey increased his boxing to eight rounds for the first time since he started training. "The crowd which witnesses the daily workouts are getting larger each day. Women spectators are numerous and they applaud the champion. Eddie O'Hare, the New York middleweight is making an impressive showing. He gives Dempsey a Gies may be dropped because of his flashy work from the standpoint of speed and shiftness. He hooks his left almost exactly the way Carpentier and his moves are much after the fashion of the French champion.

VETS OF WAR CROWD CARP'S TRAINING CAMP.
Manhasset, N. Y.—Former soldiers of the world war apparently have not forgotten the slogan "your uniform is your pass" which during the conflict was adopted for them in many places of amusement through the country. The man attired in his old time fighting duds never fails to gain admission to the camp of Georges Carpentier.

Manager Descamps has been prompted to inquire whether the

CARP HAS WEAKNESS! DOCTOR FINDS IT!

Carpenter trains one way and most of the time keeps away from the prying eyes of the curious. Dempsey has an entirely different way of training and likes to have the mob watch him.

Which is the better? And why? Dr. William Brady, famous physician, declares that no sporting writer who has been at either of both of the camps can tell you which man is training under the finger system.

More than that, "Doc" Brady says that Carpenter has a weakness and that no sport writer has discovered it.

Do you want the answer to these questions from a man who says that the Frenchman is going to be standing on his feet at the end of the fight? He bases his conclusions upon scientific analysis of both men taken from a physician's standpoint.
